EGYPTIANS DICKER IN BID
AIMED TO BLOCK WESTERN PLAN FOR CONTROL OF CANAL

By HARVEY HUDSON

London (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau proposed today that the Suez Canal be managed by an international authority, but with Egypt acknowledged as the canal's owner.

Egyptian officials, objecting to a Western plan advanced yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles for international control, were dicker behind the scenes with Indians and Russians to block it as the Frenchman expressed his views.

"We consider that there are points on which agreement should be easily reached although they imply sacrifices for some, including ourselves," Pineau told the 22-nation Suez conference.

As the owner of the canal, Pineau proposed, the Egyptian government should sign a treaty handing its management to an international authority.

He said the authority should make no profits and excess receipts should go to Egypt after provision for compensation of the company.

Secretary of State Dulles, who presented the big three scheme yesterday, today explored the attitude of Asian nations. The latter are sympathetic to Egypt's July 26 nationalization of the canal, but vitally interested in keeping it open to navigation.

Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, top political adviser to Egyptian President Nasser, held a three-hour hotel room conference with V. K. Krishna Menon, leader of the Indian delegation. Then he talked with the Russians.

Sabry said Egypt insisted on the right to control the canal. Another Egyptian official said, "The Dulles plan is not acceptable to Egypt," primarily because of the provision for an international control board.

Keeping close tabs on developments, the Egyptians stayed up until dawn studying the plan.

The Egyptians said Dulles spoke in "a moderate tone," but declared Egypt could not go along with any plan to take control of the canal out of her hands. Dulles proposed that Egypt be a member of the control board, which would be linked to the U. N.

The Egyptian reaction was not unexpected, but the west hoped to marshal enough world opinion behind its stand to force the Egyptians eventually to agree. Sweden and Portugal promptly expressed support for the plan drawn by the Western Big Three. Today's session was expected to bring counterproposals from Russia and India to the Western plan.

Training Program
For Firemen Will
Add to Protection

Greater fire protection in Warren became a step closer today as Borough Manager George Geraci announced preliminary arrangements for training auxiliary firemen.

An 18-week series of classes which, it is hoped, will add 40 auxiliary firemen to the regular force is expected to be organized about October 1. Anyone who successfully completes the training will be retained by the borough on a stand-by basis at a salary of $10 a month.

The auxiliary men will not be called upon except in case of secondary alarms, such as the recent (Turn to Page Nine)

Truman Picks 'Em Wrong and Becomes an 'Elder Statesman'

Chicago (AP)—In the blue-trimmed box on the side of the hall, the man who had been president of the United States sat in helpless silence.

"The vote was rolling up fast, in one direction, away from him. And Harry Truman's familiar square face, the reflecting light glinting off his glasses, appeared frozen in glum immobility.

He tried a few lame, self-conscious smiles but they quickly faded.

Harry Truman used to say he didn't want to be known as an elder statesman because, in his book, an elder statesman was a "dead politician."

Pilotless Target Plane
on the Loose in the Sky

Palmdale, Calif. (AP)—A pilotless target plane slipped its electronic leash and, for more than two hours, played tag at 30,000 feet with rocket-firing Air Force jets that tried unsuccessfully to shoot it down.

The drone—a F6F Hellcat of World War II carrier fame—finally ended its last, high flight when it ran out of gas and crashed yesterday in a field 11 miles east of here. The 208 rockets fired at it, however, were blamed for a dozen fires and pelted the communities of Newhall, Palmdale and Saugus.

The U. S. Forestry Service blamed the 2.75-inch rockets for a rash of fires. One, near Mt. Gleason, had swept 300 acres by nightfall.

Chicago (AP)—Former President Truman said today he has "no regrets" over his fight in vain for Averell Harriman's nomination as president and would fight just as hard to get nominee Adlai Stevenson elected.

Truman told reporters accompanying him on his usual before-breakfast walk that he feels "just like any other Democrat would after a party fight."

Last night's landslide nomination of Stevenson, whom he bitterly opposed, left Truman with only a trace of the power he once wielded in the Democratic party.

Truman did not express a choice for Democratic nominee for vice president.

West Germany
Outlaws Reds

Karlsruhe, Germany (AP)—West Germany today outlawed the Communist party as unconstitutional.

Within minutes after the Federal Supreme Court announced its long-awaited decision, police squads in major cities throughout the country swooped down on party headquarters.

Property was confiscated and the offices padlocked. No arrests were ordered.

Immediately after the ruling was announced by Court President Josef Wintrich, a police cordon was thrown around the court building to prevent any Red demonstration.

The ban does not affect West Berlin since the old German capital is not now a part of the federal republic of West Germany.

The official East German radio in East Berlin immediately issued a call to West German workers to hold mass strikes and protest rallies against the ban.

The broadcast compared the action with similar steps taken by Hitler's government. The radio charged that the decision would make it much harder to bring about reunification of East and West Germany.

Reliable reports said the Reds several months ago completed preparations to go underground if the court's ruling went against them.

Harriman Not Interested
In Taking Second Place

Chicago (AP)—Averell Harriman, defeated for the Democratic presidential nomination, said today he is not interested in the vice presidency.

The New York governor told newsmen he would appear on the convention floor at today's final session, but only as a delegate.

He said the vice presidency is an increasingly important office—but that he preferred to continue as governor of New York and to seek reelection to that post in 1958.

Only minutes after the national convention chose Adlai Stevenson as its presidential nominee, Harriman pledged to support Stevenson in his campaign against President Eisenhower.

Asked whether he would campaign actively for Stevenson, he replied:

"Of course I will."

Stevenson later paid a courtesy call on Harriman in the latter's hotel suite.

The Weather Bureau said that the seven-day-old hurricane was advancing at about 23 miles an hour. Betsy was expected to move toward the northeast at about the same or slightly faster rate during the next 12 hours.

TOP OFFICIALS
STILL PREDICT
NIXON ON 1ST

San Francisco (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon arrives in Republican National Convention headquarters tomorrow in the midst of continued predictions by top GOP officials that he will be renominated by acclamation next week at the Cow Palace.

To Adlai Stevenson's dramatic gesture in Chicago last night of throwing the Democratic choice of a vice presidential candidate open to the convention there, GOP Chairman Leonard Hall said only: "It doesn't make any difference. They've already dumped Mr. Sparkman, the candidate for vice president in 1952. They aren't in a situation such as we are where we have such a splendid team in Washington who have the record to prove they deserve to be renominated again."

Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams arrived last night, tight-lipped, with assistant White House press officer Murray Snyder, shortly after Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

The convention opens Monday. Nomination of both presidential and vice presidential candidates is scheduled Wednesday.

High Republican figures predicted—again and again—that Nixon as well as President Eisenhower would be renominated on first ballots.

Harold E. Stassen, promoting Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter to replace Nixon, had the rug pulled from under him again. Herter said that if his name were placed in nomination he would ask the presiding officer to withdraw it. He is committed to nominating Nixon.

Hall predicted Stevenson would "go down to the same devastating defeat that he experienced in 1952. He has been nominated at a dull convention, marked by speeches filled with distortions, half truths and untruths. He'll have to run on a platform that points up more than ever the split between the Democratic party factions on the civil rights issue."

While Republican platform drafters heard continued and repeated calls for a strong and specific civil rights plank, they also heard the first signs that Southern Republicans won't necessarily shun a floor fight next week over civil rights.

Nominee Says He Will Fight All the Way to Presidency

Chicago (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says he will "fight all the way" for the presidency of the United States.

Stevenson gave this pledge to jubilant supporters shortly after he won the Democratic presidential nomination last night. It conformed word for word with his press secretary, Roger Tubby, that Stevenson planned a "fighting type" campaign.

"It will be like the California windup," Tubby said.

He was referring to the free-swinging battle Stevenson had with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee when both were clawing for California's convention votes in that state's June presidential primary. Stevenson won.

Stevenson may have given a hint of things to come when he cautioned Democrats this week not to slug away at each other, but to keep their big blows for "the real enemy"—the Republicans.

Some—including former President Harry S. Truman—have said they don't think much of Stevenson as a scrapper.

But most of Stevenson's critics will concede that he has learned a few lessons in how to deal with rank-and-file voters since he was defeated by President Eisenhower four years ago.

Even Truman, who backed Gov. Averell Harriman against Stevenson, gave Stevenson that much.

MOTORCYCLE FATALITY

Watertown, N. Y. (AP)—A motorcycle-truck collision at Aspinwall Corner, 15 miles south of here, has taken the life of a 23-year-old Washington, Pa., man.

State police said Charles Linn died yesterday after his cycle smashed into a truck that cut across his path trying to make a left turn.

WINS ON FIRST BALLOT!

ADLAI E. STEVENSON

By ED CREAGH

Chicago (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, the man nominated for the presidency for the second time by the Democrats, is an egghead turned politician.

He is a witty man in an arena where deadpan earnestness pays off more often. He all but spurned the nomination in 1952. He fought tooth and nail for it in 1956.

There are some political parallels to Stevenson. Woodrow Wilson was an intellectual—indeed a college president. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a well-to-do man with an itch for public office. Abraham Lincoln was a fast man with a funny story.

Still, no previous American political figure has combined all the special ingredients that go into the complex makeup of Adlai Ewing Stevenson.

Many a professional politician doesn't know what to make of Stevenson—any more than Stevenson seems to understand some of the pros.

The old pro himself, former President Truman, went all out for Adlai in 1952—though with misgivings, as it later developed. This time Truman went all out for Averell Harriman. He said Stevenson couldn't win without help.

Whose help?

"The old man from Missouri," grinned Missouri's Harry Truman. This old relationship between Stevenson and Truman points up the usual position in which Stevenson finds himself.

Many Republicans pictured him in '52 as a head-in-the-clouds liberal, a captive of the trade unions and Americans for Democratic Action.

This year, Truman sought to write him off as a "moderate" and a "conservative."

The drama of the Stevenson-Truman split, one of the few things to enliven a sluggish convention, was long in the making.

Four years, in fact, though you wouldn't have suspected it from Truman's campaign for Stevenson in 1952.

Owlett Not Attending
National GOP Convention

Philadelphia (AP)—G. Mason Owlett, national Republican committeeman from Pennsylvania, announced today that he would not attend the GOP National Convention and the accompanying national committee meeting in San Francisco on the advice of his physician.

Owlett, who is bowing out of his national committee post, said he was giving his proxy to the man who will succeed him on the committee, Jay Cooke.

He has been a member of the national committee since 1936 and hasn't missed a GOP national convention since 1932.

PARADE CASUALTIES

Suspect Wanted in
Dunkirk for Murder
Held in Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo, Mich. (AP)—Lonnie Buchanan, 23, butcher wanted in connection with the dismemberment slaying of his wife in Dunkirk, N. Y., gave himself up to Kalamazoo police Thursday.

Buchanan had been sought since last Sunday when the dismembered body of his wife, Mrs. Bessie Buchanan, 18, was found beneath a clump of bushes on the outskirts of Brocton, N. Y., near Dunkirk.

Police said Buchanan telephoned them from the home of a relative and said:

"I bear the FBI's looking for me. Come up and pick me up."

The 5-foot, 6-inch fugitive was taken to Kalamazoo City Jail for questioning.

William C. Hinze, assistant Detroit FBI chief, said Buchanan would be held on a federal warrant charging unlawful flight across state lines to avoid prosecution. He said Buchanan is wanted by Dunkirk police on a charge of first degree murder.

Hinze said he had learned that Buchanan had been taken by friends to Erie, Pa., following the slaying and had come from there directly to Kalamazoo.

He said he would be taken before a U. S. commissioner in Grand Rapids for a hearing, probably tomorrow, and would be held there for New York authorities.

New Rule Puts Teeth in Highway Safety Program

Harrisburg (AP)—Every magistrate in the commonwealth will have to file monthly forms reporting every motorist arrested, convicted and fined for a violation of the vehicle code.

State Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gleason said the new forms "puts teeth into our highway safety program as we will now be able to take action against every motorist who is arrested, convicted and fined for a violation of the vehicle code."

There are more than 4,000 magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace who will be required to supply the filled-out forms. State police have always filed the forms.

The reports will be used to issue warnings or suspensions, depending on the offense.

BACKERS OF SEN. KEFAUVER
CLAIM HE WILL HAVE OVER
700 VOTES ON FIRST BALLOT

Convention Hall, Chicago, (AP)—A great scramble was on today for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, thrown to the "free processes" of the party convention by presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

Five hopefuls were openly bidding for support in frantic campaigning that sought to compress into hours the kind of effort normally spread over weeks. They were:

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee who appeared to be out in front. Some of his backers were claiming he would have over 700 votes on the first ballot. It takes 686½ to win.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.
Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.
Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee.
Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

On the other hand, Texas' Lyndon Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, who could easily corral the votes of many Southerners, sought to take himself out of consideration.

He told a news conference: "My name is not going before the convention."

Despite the claims made in behalf of Kefauver, it was plain there were swirling cross currents of sentiment among the haggard delegates caucusing in down town hotels and filtering back to this arena for an afternoon session.

Gore was a late starter in the scramble for the No. 2 place on the ticket. His bid came into the open when he showed up at the Pennsylvania delegation's caucus to seek support.

Newsman asked if he were a candidate?

"I just became a candidate now," he replied. "This is the first stop."

The Tennessee delegation called a caucus to throw its weight behind Gore.

The plan was to withdraw Gov. Frank G. Clement from consideration.

Clement, endorsed by his delegation yesterday for the No. 2 spot, is at odds politically with Kefauver.

Stevenson scored a first-ballot victory with 905½ votes. He needed 686½.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, his only real rival, had 210 before the traditional move to make the Stevenson nomination unanimous. Seven favorite sons divided the remainder.

In the evening's most dramatic moment, a perspiring Stevenson strode to the podium microphone.

He told cheering delegates he had decided to "depart from the precedents of the past" so that the Democratic party's vice presidential candidate "may join me before the nation not as one man's selection but as one chosen by our great party even as I have been chosen."

This statement pitched him to the convention a contest in which Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota became the principal contestants.

Kefauver, who withdrew from the presidential nomination race in favor of Stevenson after some bitter primary fights, was propelled into top position for the No. 2 place on the ticket.

(Turn to Page Nine)

Chicago (AP)—Eight others besides Adlai Stevenson got first-ballot votes for the presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

Before the Convention made Stevenson's nomination "by acclamation," the 1,372 delegates votes were divided this way among the candidates in the order in which they were nominated:

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, nominated by Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington as a "man of the people." He withdrew.

Stevenson, nominated by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as "best vote-getter" and "most appealing figure." 905½ votes.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, nominated by John Connally of Texas as a leader of "fierce courage." 80.

Rep. James Davis of Georgia, nominated by Gov. Mavin Griffin of Georgia as a defender of the "Southern way of life." 83.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, nominated by Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma as "a fighting liberal of new vision." 210.

Gov. A. B. Happy Chandler of Kentucky, nominated by Joseph J. Leary of Kentucky as "a seasoned campaigner who likes a good fight." 36½.

Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, nominated by John S. Begley of Massachusetts as a man of "patience, charity and judgment." He released his delegates.

Former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia, nominated by Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia as possessing "all the qualities... essential to the qualifications of president." 32½.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, nominated by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri as a "stalwart in the front ranks of our party." 45½.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina, nominated by Sen. Thomas A. Wofford of South Carolina as a man who "has made vivid again... the fundamental rights and responsibilities of the separate states." 23½.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, not nominated formally, 5½.

Pennsylvania
Vote Clinches
It for Winner

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Chicago (AP)—Pennsylvania's Democratic delegation cast about for a vice presidential choice today, still tingling from its Cinderella role of clinching the presidential nomination for Adlai Stevenson.

Governor Leader said the selection lies principally between Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee or Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

"My best estimate is that Kefauver has the strongest support in the delegation," he told a newsmen. "But I may be wrong."

The 148 delegates—each with a half vote—called a morning caucus to review the vice presidential picture. Leader's name, too, has appeared in speculation for the No. 2 spot.

Leader's place in the political sun never shined more brightly than when he announced Pennsylvania's 67 votes for Stevenson and 7 votes for Governor Averell Harriman, the defeated runner-up from New York.

It was—for the man who came out for Stevenson months and months ago—a personal triumph. (Turn to Page Nine)

Number Boys From Area in Attendance At Forestry Camp

State College (Special)—Thirty-two Pennsylvania youths will be better-equipped for their expected life's vocation in logging work as a result of attending a basic forestry training camp this month at Stone Valley near here.

In a move to provide safer and better-trained woods workers, a group of the state's forest industries joined with the Agricultural Extension Service of Pennsylvania State University to conduct the camp. The boys were kept busy in morning, afternoon and evening sessions with volley ball, swimming and movies for recreation interspersed with the intensive training. The instruction included tree identification, tree felling, log marking, lumber tallying and grading, timber estimating, forest management and woods safety. Visits were scheduled to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. mill at Tyrone, the Greenwood state nursery and Tussey Mountain fire tower.

The training camp was arranged by W. W. Simmonds, extension forester, and E. P. Farrand, assistant extension forester. C. P. Shull of Armstrong Forest Co., Johnsbury, was in charge of financial arrangements.

B. P. O. Elks Will Open Convention in Reading on Sunday

The State Champion Elks Chorus from Butler will be back to defend its laurels during the golden anniversary celebration in Reading August 19 to 22 inclusive.

John T. Gross, Allentown who with William B. Forsythe, Kane, is directing the chorus contest this year, reports eight entries to date.

The contest is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the main ballroom of the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, which will be the headquarters of the Elks while they are in Reading.

The association is offering $600 in prizes again this year.

Last year Butler took down the $400 first prize with a score of 89.75 while York, entered again this year, was second with 86. York's prize was $300. Third money is $200 and last year that was won by Titusville with a count of 85.76.

The contest, which is open to the public, is one of the highlights of the association meeting.

The vanguard of the more than 1,000 officials and delegates of Pennsylvania's 124 subordinate lodges will begin arriving in Reading late Saturday August 18. The registration desks will open in the Abraham Lincoln at 1 p.m. and close at 5.

Sunday will be marked by a public vesper service and the official opening of the convention with a public gathering in the ballroom of the headquarters hotel.

Two tours are planned for the women attending the convention. On one the does will visit a hoary mill and another will be to points of interest in the Reading area.

This year's convention will be the fifth to be held in Reading, and the first since 1948. The Elks gathered in Reading in 1916, 1930, 1944 and 1948. The association was organized in Harrisburg in 1906 and the first convention was held at the State Capital in 1907.

The annual convention parade discontinued in 1953 at Harrisburg will be revived again this year and the association is offering $1,000 in prizes for musical units and marching clubs. The parade will cap the gathering Wednesday afternoon, August 22.

The Van Guilder home were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ongley and family, Titusville. Garry Ongley returned home with his parents after spending several days here with his grandparents.

Word has been received from Capt. and Mrs. Robert Garber of their safe arrival at Fort Sill, Okla., where he will begin his duties August 24.

THE DEMOCRATIC CHOICE

With a roll call vote of 905½ against a required 686½, which was later made unanimous by decision of the presiding chairman at the Democratic convention last evening, Adlai Stevenson, of Illinois, received the nomination to oppose the Republican candidate Dwight Eisenhower in the presidential election in November.

As James Marlow, Associated Press news analyst says in his daily column, "One thing is sure: If Stevenson hadn't won the nomination, it wouldn't have been because he didn't try. He had prepped for it since he lost his first try at the presidency in 1952."

He had a jinx on his back: his overwhelming defeat by President Eisenhower four years ago. He had to convince the politicians to trust him for another try when the political polls are saying Eisenhower is the favorite again.

Then a last-minute blow came from former President Truman who, in his desire to get the nomination for Averell Harriman, told the convention and all American voters Stevenson couldn't win in 1956.

It was a strange piece of business for a politician like Truman who knew when he said it the Republicans could use it this fall against Stevenson—if nominated.

In the end, all Truman's blow proved was that he had lost his influence and that control of the party was now in the hands of younger men. The blow may have done Stevenson good, since many people dislike Truman.

At least it proved in a dramatic way that Stevenson no longer can be said to owe allegiance to the former President.

If Sen Estes Kefauver had not quit the race before the convention opened and thrown his support to Stevenson, there might have been a real struggle and perhaps a deadlock letting someone else get the nomination.

Kefauver's move clinched it for Stevenson. The former Illinois governor went to the convention in front and he stayed. The big claims the forces of Gov. Harriman of New York made for their man proved to be hot air.

The statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas that he was a serious candidate could never be taken seriously. He never developed any real strength.

But no Southerner could have won the nomination this year when civil rights is a big issue. And the Democrats truly would have lost a major issue—Eisenhower's health—if they had picked Johnson. The senator himself suffered a heart attack in 1955, a couple of months before Eisenhower's.

While Eisenhower has an edge starting out in this campaign, Stevenson's chances will soar if the President has to withdraw before election day for physical reasons.

It's questionable the Republicans have anyone but Eisenhower who is as good a vote-getter as Stevenson. Stevenson showed in 1952 he was a ballot-box attraction even though Eisenhower beat him by 6½ million votes.

The vote that year was 33,778,963 for Eisenhower, 27,314,992 for Stevenson.

More good news for the entire Northwestern Pennsylvania area is the dispatch from Bradford announcing that the Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency of the South Penn Oil Co., has posted price increases for producers of Pennsylvania grade crude oil runs and credit balances, to maintain delivered costs on competitive basis to refineries located from Butler to Warren.

Another step toward a decision in what is to be done about providing Warren area with much-needed new High School facilities was taken with the visit here during the week of an evaluation team from Harrisburg. They will confer and report to the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, after which notification may be expected locally, perhaps some time next week.

Better try and get caught up on your sleep during the weekend—another political convention opening Monday at San Francisco.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.—Romans 1:12.

Blessed influence of one true loving human soul on another.—George Eliot.

Here and There

Along about this time of the year, almost universal lassitude sets in which seldom fails to affect even the most ambitious. It is the season for vacations, electric fans, the open collar, cool drinks and hammocks in the shade, says an article in the official publication of The Arabian American Oil Company, printed in New York, a copy of which has just been received. The article has to do with the perennial subject of "Dog Days," and says: "In the heat of summer, you pooh instinctively searches out the coolest place in the house, and has enough sense to stay there. Like the human animal he too suffers from high temperatures mixed with humidity. Veterinarians say, however, that the incidence of diseases is spread fairly evenly throughout the whole year. They can see no connection whatsoever between summer heat and madness in dogs. Actually, dog days were named not for the canine of the species, but for a star. And ancient superstitions associated with dog days, though of a very earthly nature, found their origin in the heavens. Sirius, the brightest fixed star in the sky, belongs to the constellation Canis Major, or Greater Dog. Because it was seen to rise with the sun and was easily observable in the light of early mornings, the ancients believed that the oppressive heat they felt during that time of year was due to the combined temperatures of the dog star and the sun. In Egypt the rising of Sirius coincided with the summer solstice (when days are longest) and the overflowing of the Nile. As this river was the sole source of the soil's fertility in the Land of the Pharaohs, bringing with it produce in great abundance, the Egyptians regarded the rising of the dog star as a good omen, and the period of early summer as particularly auspicious. The ancient Romans, who gave a name to this time of the year, had precisely the opposite reaction to caniculars dies. They too were convinced that Sirius rising with the sun added to the heat of their summers. But it was perhaps because summertime for the Romans was the unhealthiest season of the year that they always considered dog days as unpropitious, and were known to sacrifice live dogs to ward off droughts and pestilence. Modern man thinks of dog days as simply the hot, sultry part of the summer, usually of about forty days' duration, but limited by no well-defined dates. The Romans, on the other hand, pin-pointed the period by astronomical observations as between July 3rd and August 11th, those weeks when they saw Sirius rise with the sun. If we were to reckon dog days by the heavens in the Roman manner, they would begin some time in August, because of the steady, gradual precession of the equinoxes. It is conceivable that eventually this slow westward movement of the equinoxes would cause future citizens to associate dog days with snow and frost. Then our descendants would be forced to dig up some brand new excuses for that let-down feeling which has always accompanied the season with the homely name—dog days.

Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Santo Pascuzzi, 110 North South street, were honored August 11 at the Sons of Italy Recreation Center with a delightful party marking their 25th wedding anniversary.

The affair was in the nature of a surprise event, arranged by their sons, Santo, Joseph and Richard, assisted by their aunts, Mrs. Betty Pascuzzi and Mrs. Mona Dell Chiodo, shortly after the couple had enjoyed dinner at Pine Woods with Mr. and Mrs. Ned Pascuzzi, Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pascuzzi of Titusville, who also celebrate wedding anniversaries this month.

The hall was attractively trimmed with pink and white streamers, supported by white bells. From the center of the room was suspended a small umbrella, trimmed in silver and having several white streamers to which were attached silver canes.

Silver and blue shades were used for the buffet table, which was centered with a three-tier anniversary cake. Atop the cake was a silver ball and surrounding it was a heart-shaped floral wreath, complemented by red roses and candles.

Mrs. Pascuzzi wore a street length dress of blue lace over matching taffeta, with rose and white accessories, and a white orchid, gift from her bridegroom of 25 years.

After several hours of dancing and entertainment, the buffet luncheon was served, Mrs. Ann White pouring coffee and Mrs. Vickie Jenkins serving the cake.

The celebrants received many cards, money and beautiful gifts of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pascuzzi, Titusville, Mr. and Mrs. Rexford White, Emporium, and Miss Shirley Melat, Oil City, were out of town guests among the many friends and relatives.

Mrs. Pascuzzi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chiodo, 305 Laurel street, and Mr. Pascuzzi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Pascuzzi, 121 North South street, all of whom were present for the anniversary occasion. The Santo Pascuzzis have lived in Warren for the past 19 years.

Brooding of Divorce Is Slow Poison for Mind

ALMOST every batch of letters that comes to my desk has one or more from a wife who writes, "I have thought of getting a divorce."

That is poor thinking. Sometimes it actually leads to divorce. Other times it just sours a marriage relationship.

For the woman who is "thinking of divorce," even if deep in her heart she doesn't intend to go through with such a plan, has to justify the thought.

In order to do so she dredges up from the bottom of her mind all of her husband's faults, all of his mistakes, all of the disillusionment of her marriage.

She also starts looking for hurts, for injustices for signs that her husband doesn't love her and that their marriage is a hopeless flop.

And there's no room for recalling all of the fine things about her husband, the times he has stood by her, how hard he has worked for his family, the setbacks he has met with courage.

With her mind full of bitterness and disappointment and her eye on a means of escape, she can't be much of a wife.

And so whether she gets a divorce or not, just thinking she MIGHT call the marriage quits makes her feel and think and act like a failure.

Poor marriages can often be turned into satisfactory ones. But not while a woman is thinking about divorce.

The Mature Parent

Parental Overprotection Often Masks Hate and Fear

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

WHEN the therapist in the child guidance clinic met Gretel's parents, he thought her mother a pleasant woman who seemed very fond of the child. But her father was frankly angry at the child's ingratitude for all the things her mother did for her.

Talking with Gretel, the therapist learned that her mother was always asking questions like "Have you brushed your teeth? Let's see behind your ears. Are all your books in your briefcase? What marks did you get today? What's your lesson for tomorrow? Let's see if you know it . . ."

Talking with the mother, he learned that actually she was Gretel's stepmother. In tears, the woman told him that she and Gretel's father had decided against any children of their own to spare the child family jealousy. But she did not say, "I hate Gretel for blocking my own maternity—and my oversolicitude for her is my defense against knowledge of this hate."

BUT this was the truth. Gretel's case is discussed in a new book, "Treatment of the Child in Emotional Conflict," by Dr. Hyman S. Lippman. I have reported it for two reasons. First, it clearly exposes the hate that so often motivates the oversolicitous parent's show of love. Second, in the questions with which Gretel's mother pursued her, we can detect the aim of the hate.

Re-read them. Then in those innocent-sounding queries, note the hidden, unrelenting insistence on Gretel's helplessness. The child's helplessness is always the aim of the overprotective parent.

GRETEL'S mother asked typically overprotective questions. Always such questions appear to want to shield the child against hurt by germs, school failure, summer camping, the socially unacceptable friend. But what they actually do is to insist that any independent adventure can have only one end—disaster.

Whether the adventure is climbing a tree or marrying the girl he wants, the child must be separated from it lest it reveal to him his own powers. Just as the spider's poison paralyzes the fly it intends to eat, so the hate behind overprotection stings the child into physical and moral paralysis.

The overprotective parent's problem is his own sense of helplessness. Gretel's mother pursued her with suggestions of helplessness because disaster was her own expectation. Otherwise, it could never have occurred to her to fear her own babies as disasters to another child.

Make Sure That Bra Is Properly Fitted

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

BOSOMS "come and go" in fill out a bosomy costume. clothing fashions, but a Bra cut is the secret in fitting into changing styles. The bra cut for Empire, "easy," "gentle" or just plain flat-breasted fashions has a smooth upward line. It won't relocate the bosom by a quarter of an inch, but it smooths the contours so that the bosom fits the fashion.

For this reason, wearing a bra too small or too large and thus trying to keep up with fashion is foolhardy.

Many women, now grandmothers, have ruined bosoms to show for an era when the breasts were strapped down as tight as muslin and muscular effort could manage. It was fashionable as all get-out, but the results were disastrous.

A too-small, ill-fitted bra will produce the same result, if a woman wears it to produce the Empire line this fall. A too-large bra, filled out with cotton or that-have-you, won't do its intended work, even though it may fill out a bosomy costume. Bra cut is the secret in fitting into changing styles. The bra cut for Empire, "easy," "gentle" or just plain flat-breasted fashions has a smooth upward line. It won't relocate the bosom by a quarter of an inch, but it smooths the contours so that the bosom fits the fashion.

A bra made for clothes with space bigger than the natural bosom, has its own padding, boning or built-in effect. Because it's made right into the bra, the bra can still provide the support it ought to. Some bras, cleverly cut, produce the look of a larger bosom with no extras at all.

It's done with a sharply defined line, a wide band underneath. But each bra purchase should be in the correct size for the work, even though it may

Explorer Writes Interesting Story of Camp Philmont Trip

(Written by Fred Gaghan, Troop Reporter.)

The last that was written was Sunday night when we were making final preparations for the great event that we came to Philmont for. That was the actual going out on the trail with our food, equipment, and anything else that we might need. Sunday night the group of officers planned the program which we would follow for the rest of our Philmont trip. After much argument on who wanted to go one place for one reason and another place for some other reason, the group officers and Mr. Morgan went to one of the cabins to plan with one of the Philmont staff what we would do on the trail and where we would go. In our plans we decided to go to Camp Dean on Monday, which was probably an old cattlemen's camp and also it has good well water which was a reason for going there. Tuesday we would leave Dean and stop at Pueblo, an old logging town which has a few remaining buildings, for dinner and then continue on our way to Ponil where we would spend the night and pick up some more food supplies for the three days we would spend at Indian Writings. We would leave Ponil for Indian Writings on Wednesday morning, which is a camp where an archaeologist is digging up the remains of an old Indian village. We would make our camp there for three days. On Thursday we would hike to Old Camp, which was the original base camp of Ponil, with our lunch and on Friday we would either take it easy or hike somewhere. Saturday morning we would clean up our campsite and return to our base camp Ponil and Sunday return by bus to main headquarters where we would remain until Monday morning when we would take a trip, if possible, to Carson-Maxwell Base camp, to see Kit Carson's home and the Philmont museum. Monday afternoon we would go to New Mexico to board our bus that night for home.

Now to start on details of our trips during the week. We left Ponil for Dean Monday morning, which is three miles and would spend the rest of the day there. In the morning we packed the burros, which would carry our food and sleeping equipment. We had no trouble with the burros. They went right along and we soon reached Dean. When we reached Dean we all drank the good water that was there 'til we could hold no more. In the afternoon we set up our tents and looked around the area. That night just as it was getting dark, we saw two huge bucks and followed them up the canyon ways. The next morning when we got up, there were five deer, all bucks in back of our tent. Philmont would be a hunter's dream with so much game. We cleaned up around the campsite and were off again for Pueblo with our burros, where we ate lunch and spent some time looking at the remains of the old village. We soon left for home or Ponil base camp where we would spend the night and pick up more food. We left Ponil for Indian Writings Wednesday morning with our burros. The trail was what you would call straight up and all rock for about four miles and then straight down the other side to Indian Writings. After reaching Indian Writings a few of the boys had to take the burros back to Ponil because we could not keep the burros with us. That night we put our food in a tree to keep it away from mice but as we were sitting around we later found deer after our food. We shined our lights around and all the eyes looked like an army. We chased them away with stones, for we found out that was the only way we could get rid of them so we would have food in the morning. The next morning, Thursday, we took bread, crackers, and jelly and headed for Old Camp where we would eat lunch and look around. We followed an old railroad track up through the canyon. On the way back we had to fight a wind that was in the canyon.

We got to our camp at supper time, are supper and took it easy 'til it was time to chase away the deer that night and then go to bed. Friday morning a few of the boys went to the "diggings" to watch the archaeologist while others washed out some clothes in a pond they had made in the nearly dry river. Clothes washed out there are dry within minutes after being washed. That afternoon we took a hike up one of the canyons to see the Indian writings on the rocks and do some conservation work toward a fifty mile award which consists of fifty miles hiked and ten hours of conservation

WHERE GOP WILL CONVENE—This exterior view of the main arena building of San Francisco's famous Cow Palace gives a good idea of the enormous size of the structure housing the 1956 Republican national convention. Note comparative size of automobiles parked in front of left wing. Foreground of picture shows only a portion of the 4,000-car, lighted and hard-surfaced parking area. The building is strictly fireproof, being made of concrete and steel, with a concrete arena floor.

CONVENTIONAL PLAN—Diagram above shows the layout of San Francisco's Cow Palace, where Republicans meet to choose their 1956 presidential ticket. Huge size of the structure is emphasized by the fact that the actual main arena occupies but one corner of it. Two large exhibition halls flanking the main arena have a total floor area of 98,000 square feet. For the convention, the semi-permanent box stalls used for horse shows will be removed and new flooring and installations made for press, radio and TV. These will augment the working press setup in the main arena. The various other rooms in the building will be available also, for offices, committee rooms, etc.

First-Rate Tennis Local Women Heads Drive To Tournament at Raise Funds for Oviatt Family Courts on Sunday

A first-rate tennis clinic and demonstration will be presented free at the new courts on Sunday afternoon. Field starting at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. Many have already signed up for the event at Kofels Store and Western Auto Store. Others who wish to compete for prizes may still register.

Immediately preceding the clinic, Burgess William J. Hall will formally accept the new courts for the borough. Mayor President Robert Gieger will give the presentation. The presentation ceremony was postponed from August 4 after the courts and Beaty Field were flooded.

Principals in the free clinic demonstration will be Al Jones and Joe Holko of Warren, O. Al is a former Youngsville resident and Holko has mastered the game with one arm. Benay Seidman arranged for the local appearance of the experts.

NANCY OVIATT RECOVERS—Five-year-old Nancy Oviatt, run down over a month ago in Wrightsville, was on the road to recovery when she made a recent hospital visit to Warren General Hospital. Candy-stricken Nancy Eunis further brightened things for her as she gave the little girl some candy. Young Nancy's 6-year-old brother, Roger, victim of the same accident, is undergoing a slow, costly recovery in Erie's Hamot Hospital. Timesphoto.

OWENS ROADSIDE MARKET

Pleasant Township

Michigan has 95 automobile plants in 45 cities.

The heartbreak of having a child run down by an automobile is bad enough. To have a child's two youngest children struck by an automobile at the same time is almost more than any parent should be asked to bear.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oviatt of Warrenburg have undergone that tragedy. Luckily, their five-year-old daughter is now well on the road to recovery.

Unhappily, her six-year-old brother, Roger, is still undergoing a lengthy and costly convalescence for severe head injuries at Hamot Hospital, Erie. The boy was transferred there after he had lain unconscious for nearly three weeks in Warren General Hospital while his mother and father stood in constant attendance at the lad's quiet bedside.

In late young Roger has begun to respond more fully to treatment started in Warren General which began to bring him back to consciousness. Now Dr. Fortune in Erie has operated on the boy's fractured leg, inserted a plate, and he is once again conscious with prospect of a long, long convalescence before him.

The lad and his sister were run down in Wrightsville early in July 1955, they ran around the back of their grandfather's car and into the path of an oncoming machine. The operator had no chance to see them.

Since then the finest of medical treatments have brought Roger back from the brink of death where he hovered for days. Medication also kept the spark of life continuing in Nancy as she lay unconscious for many days in the hospital and eventually made it possible for her to return to childhood playtime ways.

With her brother the road is longer and more costly. Young Roger has had the advantage of the finest of medical treatments for a month and a half and costs have skyrocketed.

The two Oviatt children who were injured are the youngest of a four brother and sisters in clan. Robert, aged 8, Marilyn 9, Judith 11 and Ruth 14.

Mr. Oviatt is a truck driver. They just bought a home in Sparrowsburg and thoughtful neighbors sent up a collection of $50 for the charity after the accident so payments could continue.

Mrs. Oviatt is due for an operation. It was supposed to have been performed the week her children were struck down and that is why the two youngest were with their grandfather.

Since that time, Mrs. Oviatt has been in constant attendance upon her son's slow and sad recovery. Her operation has not yet been performed.

Mrs. Emmons J. (Harriet) Wagoner of 16 Crescent Park, Warren, has already made a substantial contribution herself to a fund for the Oviatts and has expressed her willingness to act as a collector for any others who wish to help out this troubled family group.

Any contributions may be sent to Mrs. Wade at the above address or directly to Robert Oviatt at Spartansburg.

SANFORD

Sanford—Mrs. Ethel Garber attended the funeral of her uncle, Arthur Taylor, at Sheffield Friday.

Guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Culver, East Titusville, and their daughter, Gladys, who teaches in California and is spending her vacation at home; also Mrs. Mable Hill and daughters, Helen and Neola, of Garland.

The Ellis-Watson reunion was held at Canadota Lake Sunday, the 75 persons present including the following from Grand Valley: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis, Roy and Walter Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Garber.

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 84:5 — "What is Man?... thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and has crowned him with glory and honor." (AV)

Man, and that means all men, is a creature of God. He was made in the image of God and therefore is a person. As creatures of God, made in the divine image, all men are to be accorded the dignity of their manhood.

To properly honor my own dignity and reverse the divine image within myself, I must respect the dignity of all other human beings. I must avoid doing anything that will embarrass or hurt another or that will injure his reputation. I must even respect the dignity of a wicked man, for every power exercised by a person is a divine endowment, even though that power may be used for evil ends. Who knows—children of the wicked man may arise in whom that power lives on, and who purify it and dedicate it to good ends.

It is right, as we do, to talk of justice, but beyond and above justice is "loving kindness," the highest attribute of God himself. God give me compassion for all men!

Famous Portrayal Of "Dracula" Dies In Hollywood, Cal.

Hollywood (AP)—Bela Lugosi, famous for his portrayal of the "Dracula" on stage and screen, and only recently conqueror of himself after 17 years of drug addiction, died late yesterday of natural causes. He was 73.

After a long and active career in motion pictures, the Hungarian-born actor surrendered himself to Los Angeles authorities last year, saying he was a hopeless drug addict and wanted a chance of rehabilitation. He said he had started taking demerol in England in 1938 and never had been able to completely free himself from the use of drugs in one form or another.

He was treated for three months at the nearby metropolitan state hospital in Norwalk, then passed a rigid examination and was released to resume his film career. His last role was in the movie "The Black Sleep."

Lugosi's second wife, the former Hope Lininger of Johnstown, Pa., said she found him dead when she returned home from work. They were married last August. She had encouraged Lugosi to appeal for help in his fight against drug addiction, and he said she was the inspiration for his decision to enter a hospital.

The FBI said the actual acid-thrower is dead.

The announcement said FBI agents had developed evidence that the acid was thrown into the face of Riesel in New York City April 5 by Abraham Telvi whose body, with a bullet hole in the back of the head, was found on a lower East Side street in New York in the early morning of July 28.

Telvi, 22, and a resident of Brooklyn, had a long police record.

The acid attack on Riesel occurred at a time when he was actively cooperating with New York U. S. Dist. Atty. Paul Williams in a labor racketeering investigation.

The two men taken into custody in New York today, alleged to have acted in concert with Telvi, were charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice.

They were identified by the FBI as Joseph Peter Carlino, 43, arrested at his home at 124 Forsyth St. and Condolfo Mianiti, 37, taken into custody at 80 Delancy St. The two were to be arraigned promptly before a U. S. commissioner in New York.

The FBI declined to say if any progress had been made toward a solution of Telvi's slaying.

Riesel, who was carrying on a crusade against labor racketeers, was assaulted on the street shortly after leaving Lindy's Restaurant.

The conspiracy charge against Miranti alleged he was in Lindy's shortly before Riesel left the restaurant.

The FBI said that Carlino, using the name Joseph Pol, "met his co-conspirator, Abe Telvi in New York City and drove him to a hideout in the vicinity of Youngstown, Ohio, a few weeks after the acid throwing."

The federal obstruction law provides penalties up to five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. In addition, conspiracy to violate this law is punishable also by five years, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Telvi, named as the acid thrower, was born in New York City in 1934 and prior to his death was unemployed.

Sunday for his job at Contra Costa County Hospital in Martinez. He drove a back road to pick up a nurse who worked at the hospital.

A deer stepped onto the road and Arnold slammed on the brakes. His car skidded and rolled five times down a steep 35 foot embankment.

Arnold could not stand. He shouted but no one heard him. He wormed his way to a discarded bottle and filled it with radiator water. The water tasted oily and rusty, but it kept him alive.

On Tuesday, Reber noticed Arnold's skid marks. Wednesday, also.

On Thursday, Reber stopped, looked down and thought Arnold was dead. He notified police.

Pennsylvania

The tension last night built up minute by minute even though everyone in Convention Hall knew Stevenson would be the winner.

The Keystone State delegation seethed with excitement.

Would it become the key delegation to send Stevenson over the top?

The count droned on. Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh whispered to Leader to reverse the usual order and give the Harman vote first and then follow up with the Stevenson figure.

The huge white scoreboard above the head of convention Chairman Sam Rayburn flickered with the rapidly changing figures.

Oregon, turned in its count, giving Stevenson 674 votes.

The figure was still 12 1/2 votes away from the "magic number" of 686 2/3.

Leader turned to Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt and exulted:

"This is it."

Weeks of strained, worried toil fell away when the governor took the microphone.

"Pennsylvania casts 7 votes for Harman and sufficient votes to put Stevenson over the top—67."

It was a signal for a demonstration that rivaled any during the week.

The silent scoreboard told the tale. Stevenson's total had jumped to 741—more than enough to give him the nomination.

For the Pennsylvania delegation, everything else was anti-climatic.

Training Program

Carver House and United Refinery fires. (However, it was emphasized that the auxiliary smoke stacks would not be assigned the dangerous jobs which will continue to be undertaken by the "regulars.")

According to Geracimos, the state will underwrite costs of the training periods. Any resident of Warren between the ages of 21 and 50 who is in a fit physical condition is eligible to take the training. The state will also pay costs of a physical examination.

The training consists of a 54-hour program stretching over 18 weeks. The three hours training each week will include classroom and on-the-job instruction. Those successfully completing the training will be subject to occasional "refresher" training sessions.

Present strength of Warren Fire Department is 22 men.

Johnson Says His Name Is Not Going to Convention

Chicago (AP)—Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today "my name is not going before the convention" for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Johnson told a news conference he had been up most of the night talking to party leaders about the matter and had received several offers of support for the No. 2 spot.

But he declared he had stuck to his original position that he was not interested in the vice presidency and that he would be very happy to remain in his post as majority leader in the Senate.

British Start Hopeful Waiting on Cyprus Isle

By ROBERT TUCKERMAN
Nicosia, Cyprus (AP)—The British today began a period of hopeful waiting to see whether EOKA extremists fulfill their suddenly announced halt in violence on the island of Cyprus.

Leaflets circulated by Greek Cypriot rebels last night proclaimed a "suspension of operations" of the underground's campaign of violence.

Many observers here felt a cease-fire—if genuine—could provide a face-saving opportunity for new negotiations towards a Cyprus settlement. They said such a situation could allow the British to return Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, from exile on the Seychelle Islands.

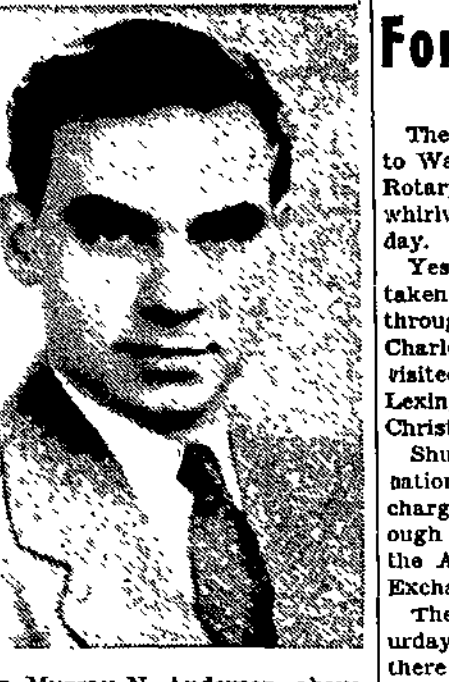

STOCK MARKET GAINS

New York (AP)—Ralls, steels and coppers stepped forward early this afternoon as the stock market increased earlier gains.

Leading stocks widened advances to around 2 points and some favored issues were up close to 3.

Accidents on farms cost the American people about one and one half billion dollars annually.

Awarded Fellowship of National Heart Institute

Dr. Murray N. Andersen, above, son of Mrs. Martin Andersen of 107 Fourth avenue, has been awarded a Special Reserve Fellowship by the National Heart Institute, U. S. Public Health Service.

He will sail in late August for Stockholm, Sweden, where he will be assistant to Dr. Clarence Crafoord, Professor of Surgery and noted cardiac surgeon of the Karolinska Institute.

Dr. Andersen graduated from Warren High School in 1941, received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Rochester in 1944, and a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Buffalo in 1947.

Following an internship at the Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, he went to the E. J. Meyer Memorial Hospital, associated with the University of Buffalo, as a surgical resident.

Since 1948 he has been resident physician in general and thoracic surgery at this institution and in 1955 was certified by the American Board of Surgery. During this period he has been active in clinical and laboratory research and has had several papers published in leading surgical journals. In 1952-53 he was a research fellow in the surgical laboratory of the University of Buffalo at the Meyer Hospital.

A major portion of this fellowship term will be devoted to advanced work in cardio-vascular surgery.

Dr. Andersen will be accompanied during this coming year in Sweden by his wife, the former Mary Joan Caney of Buffalo, New York, and their two children, Lynne Patricia, aged three, and Kevin, aged one year.

Typhoon Babs Kills at Least Eighteen Persons

Tokyo (AP)—Typhoon Babs killed at least 18 persons, police said, and swamped 223 small boats off Kyushu today, then threatened to strike again in northern Japan.

Storm warnings were sounded in northern Honshu and Hokkaido. Fearing the worst, big and little ships in the north hurried to their harbors.

Incomplete police tabulations showed 18 persons killed, 8 missing, 64 injured, 427 houses destroyed and 1,341 flooded, 223 small boats sunk or washed away and 203 others damaged. Earlier police reports said 22 were known dead.

Whirlwind Tour Is Nearing End For Foreign Students

The 14 foreign students brought to Warren under the aegis of the Rotary Club were concluding a whirlwind tour of this section today.

Yesterday the students were taken on an inspection trip through United Refinery by Charles Cable and this afternoon visited the Sylvania plant along Lexington Avenue, with Chet Christensen as guide.

Shurtliff of Rotarians International service committee is in charge of the visit to this borough by one of the tour units of the Association for World Travel Exchange in New York City.

The group will leave here Saturday morning for Erie. From there they make successive stops at Akron, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York City before sailing to Europe Sept. 11.

The international student representatives from such countries as Germany, Morocco, France, Italy and Austria left New York City for Quebec July 31. They are quartered with Rotarians and friends in Warren.

Backers of

The Tennessee senator immediately shed the coy attitude he has maintained toward the vice presidency and announced he hopes to win on the first ballot.

In letting the delegates actually pick the vice presidential nominee, something they hadn't done in years, Stevenson spotlighted Eisenhower's health and the Republican squabble started by Harold E. Stassen's efforts to ditch Vice President Nixon. Most top GOP figures have been saying Nixon is Eisenhower's choice and will be renominated.

This three state delegations in a tizzy. It interrupted plans of many delegates to take a few hours off before they came back to ratify in voting today the expected choice of their top nominee for second place on the ticket.

Immediate reaction was that Kefauver and Humphrey were likely to fight it out, although Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City also announced his candidacy.

Kefauver was reported to have the backing of a group of union leaders, including President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers.

They were said to have decided at an informal conference that Kefauver, widely known because of his extensive primary campaigning across the country, could be counted on to help the ticket immediately.

Kefauver, however, had opposition from Southern delegations. He lacked the support of his home state of Tennessee, still plugging Gov. Frank G. Clement, the convention's keynote.

But in states the Democrats must carry if they are to win the November election, Kefauver was strong.

He had active backing in California, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania. He was credited with appeal to the Midwestern farm states.

Humphrey could command support of the same areas. But his 1948 and 1952 battles for strong civil rights rights left the Minnesota senator still without many friends in the South.

There were some signs that Stevenson's decision to toss the nomination to the convention may have been influenced in part by a belief that if he didn't choose Kefauver he would generate some deep-seated resentment within the rank and file of the party.

Associates said Stevenson could not openly choose Kefauver, who withdrew from the top nomination contest in his favor, without being accused of having made a deal.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said the presidential nominee planned to remain entirely aloof from today's contest over second place on the ticket.

Associated Press Writer Is Released in Hungary

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Endre Marton, Associated Press correspondent in Budapest, has been released from a Hungarian prison and reunited with his family.

A Hungarian Interior Ministry spokesman in Budapest said Marton had been given full clemency.

Marton, 44-year-old Hungarian national, was arrested in February 1955 in Budapest on charges of spying for U. S. intelligence agents. He had worked as a part-time AP correspondent in Budapest from 1947 until the time of his arrest.

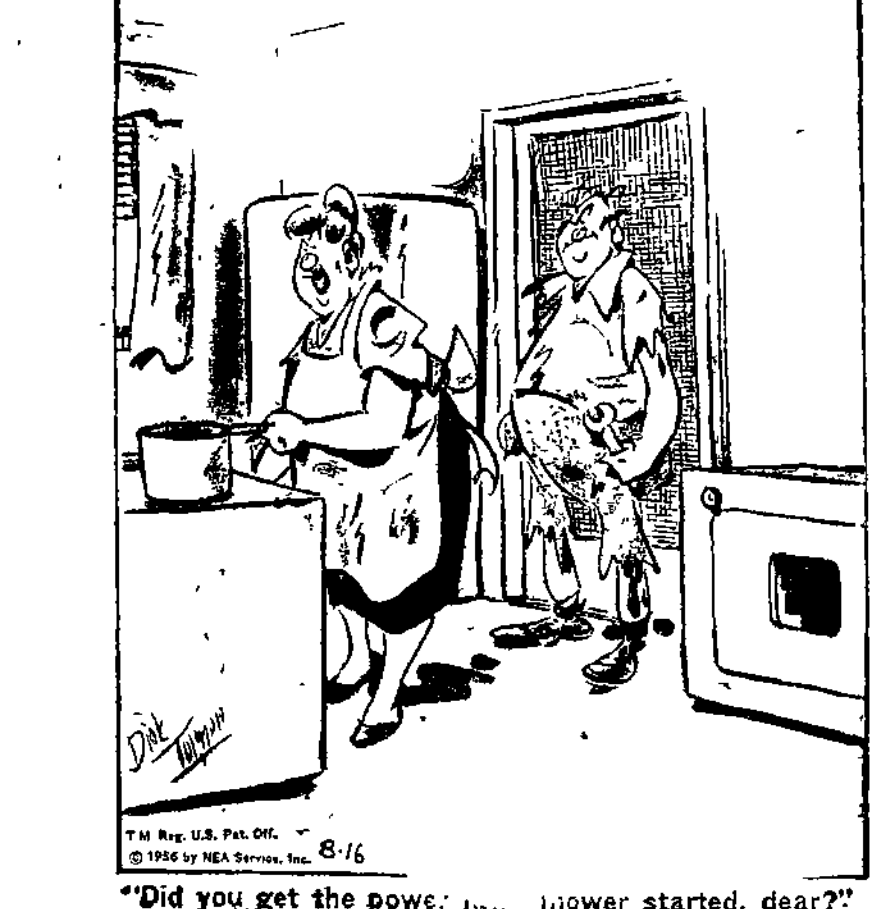

His wife Ilona, who had worked for the United Press for about the same period, was arrested and charged with him. The Budapest radio said last Jan. 14 Marton had been sentenced to six years and his wife to three years. Mrs. Marton was released in April.

Marton telephoned the news of his release from Budapest to Vienna and said he had been permitted to rejoin his wife and their two children.

Beaten Cards Claim They Can See Burdette Load Spit Balls From Bench; Braves Win, 8-0

By ED WELLS
The Associated Press

Low Burdette, with or without an illegal "spitter," stands a chance of becoming the National League's best shutout pitcher in 14 years while figuring as one of the big guys in Milwaukee's battle for the pennant.

The 29-year-old right-hander, who had only seven shutouts in his five-year major league career before this season, added his sixth of the campaign with a neat five-hit, 8-0 victory last night over the St. Louis Cardinals—who by the way, lead the claim that the stuff Burdette throws isn't always dry.

"Criminy," says Card manager Fred Hutchinson, "you can sit on the bench and see him load 'em."

With his six shutouts, Burdette—who denies the "spitter" charges—is the first NL right-hander to throw that many in one season since the Phils' Robin Roberts did it to lead the league in 1951.

The 10 Mort Cooper hung up for the Cards in 1942 hasn't been touched since, and no NL pitcher has counted seven shutouts in one year since Harry Brecheen, another Card, in 1948.

Last night's job gave Burdette 15 victories and a league-leading earned run average of 2.53.

The Cincinnati Redlegs slipped to third place with a 4-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs that allowed Brooklyn to regain second with a

Furgol and Burke Share 63's, Lead Milwaukee's Open

Milwaukee (AP)—Ed Furgol and Jackie Burke shared the lead with 7-under par 63s today as the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament entered the second round, but they were by no means alone in the sub-par echelon.

Forty pros and two amateurs solved Tripoli's 6,380-yard par 35-35-70 set up with below-par golf yesterday. Indications were that, with par-busting rounds a dime a dozen, it might take a 265 or better to win the big money for 72 holes.

Furgol, 37-year-old St. Louis pro whose left arm is 10 inches shorter than his right because of a childhood accident, and the 33-year-old Burke, Masters and PGA champion from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., fired identical 81-32 rounds to establish a new course record.

Bracketed with 64s—equaling the old course standard—were Jim Turnesa of Spring Valley, N. Y., and Gene Luttier of Singing Hills, Calif.

Babe Lichardus, young pro from Hillsdale, N. J., was alone at 65, thanks to a nine-putt front nine.

Shooting 66s were Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Al Balding, Canadian pro.

Twelve more pros were locked at 67, 10 pros and two amateurs carded 68s and 13 additional money players turned in scores of 69.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, 1956 U S Open champion, who won last year's Milwaukee Open with a 15-under-par 265 at Blue Mound, was in the pack with a 67.

Speaking Of Sports ---

Coach Fred Bell is faced with a sizeable rebuilding program this year after graduation swept through the ranks of 1955's undefeated championship squad, winning all but two linemen of the starting eleven John Powley, an end, and Dick Kremer, a tackle, are the offensive standouts still left, while John Berdine was a defensive regular. Jim Griffin, Henry Lanman, Bob Hartnett and Conrad Hultman are others returning who saw enough action to qualify as lettermen last year.

And, as the season wears on and increased experience starts paying off, seniors Jim Mohrnick and Ronald Sanden are expected to make a strong bid for starting berths as tag ends. Clarence Jenkins and George Rasmussen are expected to look good at tackle and guard slots could go to John Salerno and Harry Brooker. Tom McCune, Bruce Trevenen and Ted Rosequist will buck for center and Dave Swanson is being watched as a potential first-string back. These are the seniors.

Ken Allen and Dave Sedwick look likely as guards and Jack Suppa might slip into a backfield position as juniors prepare to take on their share of the local game.

Further back along the line but still potential varsity material this year are sophomores Louis Mucaro, Jim Miller, Bob Haset, Don McKelvy, Bill Brumagin, Dick

Musial Sets Extra Base Record But Wants 3,000 Hits

St. Louis (AP)—Stan Musial was relaxing in the dressing room when a sports writer handed him an all-time National League record sheet which showed him high in almost every department.

Musial, 35-year-old first baseman - outfielder, had just set a new National League mark for extra-base hits.

His 1,072nd was a scorching liner off the right field screen in the seventh inning last night. He'd been chasing the record since last Sunday, when he tied it.

The record was just one of many Stan holds, but it's one of the more significant. Mel Ott of the New York Giants needed 2,730 games and 22 seasons to set the old one. Musial, now in his 14th season, beat it in 2,102 games.

"This record is nice to have but my chief goal this season is the batting title," Musial said. His three hits last night boosted his average to .316. He's in third place 11 points behind teammate Wally Moon and 23 behind Milwaukee's Hank Aaron.

Musial already has six league batting crowns and a seventh would tie Hall of Famer Rogers Hornsby. Honus Wagner leads with eight.

Stan said his No. 1 goal is 3,000 hits, a total reached by only seven players in baseball history. He needs 266 more.

You get an idea of his stature from his first place standing in slugging percentage .583. That puts him ahead of such men as Hornsby, John Mize, Chuck Klein, Hack Wilson, Ott and Ralph Kiner.

Kinzua Wins Eastern Division Midget Play-Off; Play Struthers for Title

Kinzua Legionnaires edged Mack's News 2-1 last night on Beyer Field as they secured the Eastern Division Championship of Midget Hot Stove League competition.

The victory pushed them into a play-off Tuesday at 6 P. M. against the Western Division champs, Struthers-Wells. Game will be played at Kinzua.

Winning pitcher Platt struck out 11 men along the race, besides doubling in his own behalf. Quiggle also doubled and Matson caught.

Bliss, Young and Dodds were Mack's battery, with Nichols tripling and Gaghan doubling.

CVCC Golf Championship Moves to Quarter Finals

One more contender for the Conewago Valley Country Club golf title moved into the quarter finals yesterday when "Pete" Juliano turned back Phil Pritchard by a 5 up and 3 to play count.

Only two more opening matches in the championship flight remain to be played: Bob Anstadt and "Heggie" Schmidt and "Skip" Morine and John Trevenen. These are both scheduled for the weekend.

Meanwhile Sam Rasmussen advanced in the second flight by defeating Dean Anderson one up in the only extra-hole match thus far. The pair went 19 holes.

In the sixth flight Al Loranger turned back Harry Barley 6 and 5 in a first round match while Howard Boyd defeated Al Vermilyea 7 and 5 in the quarter final round of the same flight.

George Biers had an outfield day at the plate as he slammed a homer, triple and double for Jones. Clyde Farnsworth clouted four for five.

Billy Wolfe poked one that disappeared for the circuit while Reese and R. Bonavia tripled. Steffen was Jones pitcher against Ritchie.

Average Yearling Thores Bring $12,751 In Sales

Saratoga Springs, N. Y. (AP)—The annual Saratoga sale of thoroughbred yearlings ended tonight with 30 from Larry S. MacPhail's Glenangus Farm of Bel Air, Md., consigned to the auction ring.

The average price increased to $12,751 last night largely because of 20 yearlings from the consignment of Daniel G. Van Cleaf's Nydris Stud of Esmont, Va. brought $332,600 with seven topping $25,000.

A total of 45 went under the hammer for $573,800.

Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron of Unionville, Pa., paid the two highest prices. She went to $41,000 to get a bay colt by Nearco and bid in a chestnut colt by Polynesia for the same price.

The Briardale Farms of Bedminster, Pa., led a bay colt by Tulyar out of the ring after going to $33,000 while Hunter Falconer of Charlottesville, Va., paid $330,000 for a bay filly by Princequillo.

CHANCE FOR ROOKIE

Olean, N. Y. (AP)—Lowell Lander, a rookie from Westminster (Pa.) College, will get a chance to play defensive halfback when the Pittsburgh Steelers meet the Detroit Lions at Toledo tomorrow night in a National Football League exhibition. Lander will replace halfback Art Davis for the Steelers. Davis, the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice from Mississippi, is being treated for a slight shoulder separation. He was injured last Friday night while playing for the College All-Stars against the Cleveland Browns at Chicago.

Law Pitches a Six-Hitter to Beat the Phils by 4-1 Score

New York (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates is hopeful his young team might take on the role of the "spoilers" in the last phases of the season. The Pirates open a weekend series today with the New York Giants.

Vernon Law came through with a fine pitching performance last night at Philadelphia, scattering six hits as the Pirates beat the Phils 4-1.

Young Bill Majeroski, 20-year-old Pirate second baseman, and outfielder Bill Virdon and Roberto Clemente gave Law all the batting support he needed. Majeroski hit his first major league homer after Clemente had singled in the fourth inning to give the Pirates a 2-0 lead.

In the sixth inning, Virdon smashed his eighth homer to score Majeroski who had singled. Majeroski wound up with a perfect night at the plate, getting three hits in as many attempts.

The victory, achieved over Robin Roberts, gave the Pirates an even break in their four-game series with the Phils.

'Gentleman Jim' Must Protect Skyline Lead

The late model stock cars will roll at the Skyline Speedway again this Sunday evening with "Gentleman" Jim Patrick still on top in the championship point race. Jim picked up two more points over Squirt Johns last Sunday but isn't out of the woods yet as the 40-point lead that he now holds could be erased in a single evening at this Sugar Grove racing plant.

A thrill-packed eight-event card climaxed by a 25-lap feature, has been scheduled for this Sunday.

The roster at this popular speedway, includes names of such favorites as Gus Nelson of Bradford, Joe Sauner, Jamestown, Emory Mahan, Warren, John McGinley, Clanton, John Sealey, Jamestown. The special team races, which were scheduled to start this week, have been postponed until next Sunday to allow the arrangement of final details.

The Skyline Speedway races start at 8:30 P. M.

Olympic Tryout Previews Begin With AAU Events

Philadelphia (AP)—The Women's National AAU Track and Field Championship, a preview of next week's Olympic tryouts in Washington, opened here today.

The first of the two-day program on Franklin Field was devoted to some 100 girls between the ages of 14 and 17.

Tomorrow, the women, augmented by some of the better girls' prospects, will compete in an 11-event program which should give Uncle Sam a pretty good idea of the talent he can count on for next fall's Olympic Games at Melbourne.

Mrs. Frances Kaszubski, chairman of the Women's Olympic Track and Field Committee, predicts that this year's women's track team will make the best Olympic showing in 24 years.

America has won only one field event since 1932 and one individual track title since 1936 in international games. Alice Coachman won the high jump in 1948, and Helen Stephens the 100-meter dash at Berlin in 1936.

Calm Juan d' Fuca Strait Aids First Swim Across

Victoria, B. C. (AP)—Cliff Lumsdon of Toronto early today became the first person to swim the Juan De Fuca Strait from Victoria to the Washington shore when he stroked his way across the 18 1/2 miles in about 11 hours and 35 minutes.

The strait, labelled by distance swimmers as one of the most treacherous and unpredictable challenges known, was unusually calm and placid throughout Lumsdon's swim.

ELKS PLAYOFF GAME WITH BRADFORD

Fourth place in the Penn-York Baseball League (and a chance to compete for the championship) will be decided tomorrow afternoon at State Hospital Diamond when Warren Elks and Bradford fight it out. Both are tied with .500 percentages, the locals with a record of 10-10, Bradford with a record of 8-8. Winner of that scrap will take on the league champion Starlite Bombers Sunday in a sudden-death playoff. Also on Sunday, Ludlow Wildcats, in second place, will take on third place Marlin-Rockwell in another sudden-death playoff. Winners of the Sunday games will then have a two-out-of-three elimination series for the league title.

and Bill Majeroski won for the Pirates and Vernon Law, who tossed a six-hitter. Robin Roberts lost it.

Yogi Berra's eight-inning single broke up Nixon's no-hit bid, and the veteran right-hander then hung on for his third victory over the Yankees this season as they scored on two errors and a pinch single by Mickey McDermott in the ninth. Jackie Jensen's 16th homer put it away for the Red Sox, who got just four hits off loser Don Larsen.

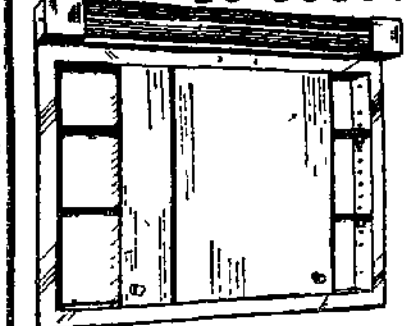

Rocky Colavito smacked his first major league grand-slammer and Al Rosen poled a solo shot to beat the Tigers for Herb Score's 13th victory.

Minnie Minoso's seven-inning triple scored the winning run as the White Sox swept the three-game set with the A's.

Guardsmen Reach Mid-Way Mark in Summer Training

Indianapolis, Pa. (P)—Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Division today reached the mid-way mark of its annual two weeks of summer training.

The rattle of small arms fire and the booming of artillery continued on this 17,000-acre military reservation as troops of the division's three infantry regiments and four artillery battalions practiced their skills.

The division's 103rd Engineer Battalion, Philadelphia, last night made a series of practice assaults across the camp's lake. The engineers manned small assault craft, each equipped to carry 12 infantrymen in combat.

Also out after dark was the 60th Infantry Regiment, of the Scranton area, which practiced night combat maneuvers.

During the day the division was inspected by Lt. Gen. Ridgely Lathrop, deputy commander of the Continental Army Command for Reserve Affairs. He flew into the camp yesterday morning from Washington to study the unit's training program.

Gaither was met on his arrival by Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, division commander, and an honor guard of the 28th Reconnaissance Co., Philadelphia.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

Methodist Home Notes

Margaret H. McBride

This past week has been memorable as the occasion for the second annual picnic Session of the Sunset Auxiliary to the Home, when several hundred members converged on our place August 8. It was a disappointment to many of us that more churches in the Conference were not represented this year, since the Auxiliary has become such a help to us in many ways. If one could see the fine hand railings along the corridors which have meant safety to many of us, the devotion of the Auxiliary their first year, that alone would testify to what they can do here. Ornamental hand railings at the front steps did as much for us—three steps are too much for a lot of our folks to negotiate without some support. Many had never been here before, and enjoyed the tour which Rev. George Braun personally led. Others helped to show the visitors about, and a number of them renewed acquaintance with our members.

Oil City sent a delegation of nineteen. Among them, I had the pleasure of greeting Mrs. Elizabeth James, a sister of Mrs. Ed. Sleemen, one of my Clarendon friends, who with Mrs. Beulah Reese, called on the Oil City members here. Last Sunday's visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tidmarsh, with their little girl, who came over from Sharon to see their aunt, Mrs. Bessie Goodell. Later in the week Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Tidmarsh, from Waterford, stopped in for a brief visit with her, upon their return from their recent vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ray and Miss Lou Ray were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Aug. 5, in Albion, to attend a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Ray's daughter, Mrs. Helen Curtis, the mother of Mrs. Johnson, and enjoyed the reunion a lot. Union City visitors last week who called on the Charles Hubbells were his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wallace, Mrs. J. E. Fox, Miss Florence Andrews and Mrs. Ralph Drake, who also dropped in to see other friends here, Mrs. Rose Thompson and Miss Maude Hawthorne.

Mylo Putnam has progressed so satisfactorily after his operation that he was returned to our infirmary, and reports are very satisfactory. The same can be said of Mrs. Blanche Crothers, who is improving steadily. Mrs. George Propeck, an old friend from Waterford, was a visitor to Mrs. Maude Johnson and Mrs. Laura Putnam Tuesday last. Wednesday callers on Mrs. Anna Schultz were Dr. and Mrs. O. O. Bashline, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. Chas. McNeish, Mrs. Stanley Schultz and Miss Betty Schultz, all from Grove City, also Mrs. Schultz's brother, Mr. Sam Weckerly and Mrs. Harry Reese of New Bethlehem. That same day, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas, Erie, came over to see Mrs. Flora Hopson.

Mrs. Loda Hutchinson has been admitted to Hamot Hospital in Erie, where she will submit to a difficult eye operation, and expects to be there for some time. Little Valley friends who came in to see her last week included Mrs. Gerry Ryckman, the former Alice Kelly, who was the YWCA Recreational Director in Meadville in 1935, as well as Mrs. Ruth Miller and Mrs. Howard Van Rensselaer.

A cousin of Mrs. Minnie Graham, Mrs. Thos. Evans of Scranton, called on her Friday afternoon, and her grand-daughter, Mrs. V. H. Millard, with her husband and daughter Kathy from Conneaut Lake, were over to see her Thursday. Mrs. Graham is pretty well recovered from her sprained ankle, and getting about as spry as ever.

Saturday visitors from Waterford to Mrs. Dora Blystone were Mrs. Paul Reynolds and Mrs. Lynn Phelps, while I had a nice visit with my son from Warren. Then Mrs. Norman Greenslet from Cochranton was a welcome guest, who always covers lots of territory when she is here, usually well laden with gifts of all sorts. Sunday one of the many folks who made brief visits was Jack Schultz from Grove City, who dropped in to see his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Schultz.

First free diagnostic cancer clinic in the United States was opened at Columbus, Ohio, in 1921.

Chicken, Ham, Roast Beef and Vegetables Top Buys This Week

By The Associated Press

Chicken, ham, roast beef and just about any vegetable you can think of from artichokes to zucchini squash will be attractively priced in many food markets across the nation this weekend.

Chickens—broilers, fryers and ready-cut parts and hams have been popular fare with housewives and store managers during most of the summer, probably because of their adaptability to outdoor as well as indoor cooking.

With beef, however, it seems more likely to be a case of featuring roasts and steaks before prices go up again. Retail prices were slightly higher in widely scattered sections this week, a foretaste of what may be expected when higher wholesale prices are reflected in the tags at meat counters in the supermarkets and corner groceries.

Two months ago, choice grade cattle reached a 10-year low in Chicago, but in the short space of time since then they're bounced back up to the highest level since April of last year. And these corned critters normally bring a higher price in September than in August in the wholesale markets.

Potatoes, on the other hand, have come down from their dizzy price peaks of a month ago, and produce men say they'll continue to do so. So, if the head of the house complains that there's more potato than meat in the roast beef hash, there's a reason.

Onions also have become more attractive in price, which should be good news for hamburger lovers.

The attractive prices at the vegetable counters stem from a bountiful harvest, estimated at 4 per cent above last year by Department of Agriculture experts. They expect the tomato crop to be 16 per cent above last year; celery 18 per cent; lettuce and cucumbers, 3 per cent and cauliflower, 5 per cent. Snap beans, carrots, sweet corn and beets will be a bit less plentiful, however.

Watermelons and cantaloupes will be the best buys among the melons in many sections this weekend, with blueberries, peaches and plums, also attractively priced.
